Environmental Awareness and Tree Plantation :-

In order to work towards an environmentally conscious society, the need of the hour is to empower the youth with sufficient knowledge, skills, and values to help them understand their relationship with the environment and encourage them to make concerted efforts to improve standards of living with a pro-environment focus.

We at Ummeed Foundation organize regular environmental awareness programs, workshops, training programs, exposure visits, etc. with our target groups, on issues related to environment. Planting a tree is a lifelong investment. We also organize camps for tree planting.
